Personal data

Sources of data

We receive your data when you visit and interact with the Platform, depending on your actions on the Platform.

You can change your personal data by exercising your right to rectification or by the Platform functionality. Please note that the same lawful basis and storage terms apply to the changed data.

We may also (although we do not necessarily do so) receive data from third parties. It depends on your settings and the features you use.

Lawful bases for processing

To process your personal data, we rely on the following lawful bases:

- performance of the contract – for the processing of personal data necessary for the negotiating on, conclusion, and performance of a contract (mainly, the Terms of Services) with you;
- legitimate interest – for the processing necessary for the development of our services, taking into consideration your interests, rights, and expectations;
- legal obligation – for the processing as required by applicable laws (for example, to comply with tax or KYC/AML regulations) or if requested by a law enforcement agency, court, supervisory authority, or another state-authorized public body;
- consent – for additional specific purposes.

If we collect personal data on the basis of legitimate interest or performance of the contract, we can use it for another purpose after checking that the new purpose is compatible with the original purpose.

When your data processing is based on a legal obligation or performance of the contract, you are obliged to provide your personal data. We need this data to comply with legal requirements or to properly provide you with our services. The failure to provide such data may have negative consequences, such as tax liability, inability to enter into a contract or provide services to you, etc.

Users' data

When you visit the Website, we collect some data automatically. We collect some technical data about the Users to optimize performance, debug issues, and enhance features while ensuring security and privacy to improve the overall user experience.

Most of the technical data we collect are anonymous, but some data is associated with your IP address and device ID. Please read about personal technical data below.

Analytics tools	We rely on analytics services, including Hotjar, Metaplex, Mixpanel, and Google Analytics, to analyze user interactions and optimize platform performance.
Social networks	We use various social networks to spread information about our activities.
Data storage services	We use various cloud services, like PostgreSQL and HostMarket, that allow us to securely store data on remote servers.
Providers of the services our team use	We use CRM systems, messengers, and other services in our organization to provide you with our services.
State authorities, courts, law enforcement agencies, etc	We may be obliged to transfer some of your data to tax authorities, courts, law enforcement agencies, and other governmental bodies: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> to comply with a government request, court order, or applicable law; to prevent unlawful use of the Platform; to protect against claims of third parties;

- to help prevent or investigate fraud.

To get a detailed list of the third-party recipients of your personal data, contact us.

To share your data, we rely on the following lawful bases, depending on the case: consent, compliance with the law, and performance of a contract.

Use of AI and data handling

Usage guidance

Our platform is designed to integrate AI-powered tools to enhance your experience, particularly in providing personalized and real-time insights. AI-based features include real-time alerts on market events, such as changes in trading volume, gas fees, wallet activity, and other indicators. You have the option to customize the notifications to suit your preferences. Please note that any outputs, including trading recommendations, should be interpreted with caution and do not constitute financial advice.

Data processing and transparency

Your personal data will be processed strictly in compliance with the GDPR and other applicable privacy regulations. This includes data shared with us for configuring AI-driven alerts, recommendations, or personalized assistance. The data is used solely for these purposes and to enhance the functionality of our platform. You retain full rights to your personal data and can manage your privacy preferences at any time.

Commitment to privacy and transparency

We are committed to ensuring transparency in how AI tools function and how your data is handled. As we roll out these AI-powered features, we will provide clear explanations of their functionality and associated data practices. For further information or if you have concerns regarding your data and privacy, please contact us.

The Privacy Notice reflects our ongoing commitment to leveraging advanced AI tools responsibly while prioritizing your privacy and trust.

Data protection

We apply a variety of security measures appropriate to the possible risks.

Organisational measures
Staff training	Internal policies and instructions
Non-disclosure agreements (NDA)	Transfer protection

Access control mechanism

Technical measures
Two-factor authentication	Backups

Do not sell my personal information

California residents have the right under the California Consumer Privacy Act (“CCPA”) to opt out of the “sale” of their personal information by a company governed by the CCPA.

We do not sell your personal information to anyone nor use your data as a business model.

However, we support CCPA by allowing California residents to opt out of any future sale of their personal information. If you would like to record your preference that we will not sell your data in the future, please contact us.

Do-not-track requests

California residents visiting the Platform may request that we do not automatically gather and track information about their online browsing movements across the Internet.

Such requests are typically made through web browser settings that control signals or other mechanisms that allow consumers to exercise choice regarding collecting personal data about an individual consumer’s online activities over time and across third-party websites or online services.

We currently do not have the ability to honor these requests. We may modify this Privacy Notice as our abilities change.
